I think we are all interested in building capacity...to think outside the box on reinventing rural."

"Live Better in Nebraska"

The American Rescue Plan Act offers communities funds to help their economic recovery after the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Nebraska communities are among those recipients. Here are the ARPA numbers:

- $111,944,837 given to 93 Nebraska counties
- $92,241,232 given to 72 U.S. counties
- $2,461,710 given to 2 Nebraska counties

Visit RPN’s website at ruralprosperityne.unl.edu to contact RPN.

We’re kicking off 2022 by welcoming Dr. Mary Emery as the inaugural director of Rural Prosperity Nebraska. She’ll start as director on Feb. 15. With a background in community and economic development, Mary will also serve as a professor in the Department of Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication on UNL’s East Campus in Lincoln.

Mary Emery
New Director of RPN

At the Launching Nebraska- nauts event hosted by 4-H and Extension in Grand Island in Oct., students talk to astronauts living and working in the International Space Station.

Leading Locally

This program helps locals strengthen leadership skills and discover their leadership capacity. Currently Wayne and Schuyler both have cohorts who have al- ready had an impact on their community development and are poised to graduate in April.

How Has RPN Helped Your Community?

Contact our Communications Team ruralprosperityne@unl.edu

How Can RPN Help Your Community?

Contact our Community Engagement Team rex.nelson@unl.edu

At the Launching Nebraska- nauts event hosted by 4-H and Extension in Grand Island in Oct., students talk to astronauts living and working in the International Space Station.

Upcoming Events

- Jan 23: COOL Network series begins. Register at nacone.org
- Feb 4-5: Nebraska Regional Ag Impact Summit
- Feb 15: Community applications due for Rural Fellowship program
- Feb 24-25: Women in Agriculture Conference, Kearney
- Apr 27-28: Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference, Columbus

The Rural Fellowship program is eligible for financial support. A total of $100,000 will be given to communities.

HOPE

Lindsay Hastings con-ducted a study about leadership transfers in rural communities and found an interesting phe- nomenon—hope helps communities thrive.

Millions given to Nebraska counties able to receive funds RPN Educators ready to help Clicks needed to contact RPN

Featured Program

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference, Columbus

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Money given to Nebraska counties able to receive funds RPN Educators ready to help Clicks needed to contact RPN

$100,000 Communities that host students as part of the 2022 Rural Fellowship program are eligible for financial support. A total of $100,000 will be given to communities.

I think we are all interested in building capacity...to think outside the box on reinventing rural.

"Live Better in Nebraska"

The American Rescue Plan Act offers communities funds to help their economic recovery after the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Nebraska communities are among those recipients. Here are the ARPA numbers:

- $111,944,837 given to 93 Nebraska counties
- $92,241,232 given to 72 U.S. counties
- $2,461,710 given to 2 Nebraska counties

Visit RPN’s website at ruralprosperityne.unl.edu to contact RPN.

We’re kicking off 2022 by welcoming Dr. Mary Emery as the inaugural director of Rural Prosperity Nebraska. She’ll start as director on Feb. 15. With a background in community and economic development, Mary will also serve as a professor in the Department of Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication on UNL’s East Campus in Lincoln.

Mary Emery
New Director of RPN

At the Launching Nebraska-nauts event hosted by 4-H and Extension in Grand Island in Oct., students talk to astronauts living and working in the International Space Station.

Leading Locally

This program helps locals strengthen leadership skills and discover their leadership capacity. Currently Wayne and Schuyler both have cohorts who have already had an impact on their community development and are poised to graduate in April.

How Has RPN Helped Your Community?

Contact our Communications Team ruralprosperityne@unl.edu

How Can RPN Help Your Community?

Contact our Community Engagement Team rex.nelson@unl.edu

At the Launching Nebraska-nauts event hosted by 4-H and Extension in Grand Island in Oct., students talk to astronauts living and working in the International Space Station.

Upcoming Events

- Jan 23: COOL Network series begins. Register at nacone.org
- Feb 4-5: Nebraska Regional Ag Impact Summit
- Feb 15: Community applications due for Rural Fellowship program
- Feb 24-25: Women in Agriculture Conference, Kearney
- Apr 27-28: Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference, Columbus

The Rural Fellowship program is eligible for financial support. A total of $100,000 will be given to communities.

HOPE

Lindsay Hastings conducted a study about leadership transfers in rural communities and found an interesting phenomenon—hope helps communities thrive.

Millions given to Nebraska counties able to receive funds RPN Educators ready to help Clicks needed to contact RPN

Featured Program

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference, Columbus

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Money given to Nebraska counties able to receive funds RPN Educators ready to help Clicks needed to contact RPN

$100,000 Communities that host students as part of the 2022 Rural Fellowship program are eligible for financial support. A total of $100,000 will be given to communities.

I think we are all interested in building capacity...to think outside the box on reinventing rural.

"Live Better in Nebraska"

The American Rescue Plan Act offers communities funds to help their economic recovery after the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Nebraska communities are among those recipients. Here are the ARPA numbers:

- $111,944,837 given to 93 Nebraska counties
- $92,241,232 given to 72 U.S. counties
- $2,461,710 given to 2 Nebraska counties

Visit RPN’s website at ruralprosperityne.unl.edu to contact RPN.

We’re kicking off 2022 by welcoming Dr. Mary Emery as the inaugural director of Rural Prosperity Nebraska. She’ll start as director on Feb. 15. With a background in community and economic development, Mary will also serve as a professor in the Department of Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication on UNL’s East Campus in Lincoln.

Mary Emery
New Director of RPN

At the Launching Nebraska-nauts event hosted by 4-H and Extension in Grand Island in Oct., students talk to astronauts living and working in the International Space Station.

Leading Locally

This program helps locals strengthen leadership skills and discover their leadership capacity. Currently Wayne and Schuyler both have cohorts who have already had an impact on their community development and are poised to graduate in April.

How Has RPN Helped Your Community?

Contact our Communications Team ruralprosperityne@unl.edu

How Can RPN Help Your Community?

Contact our Community Engagement Team rex.nelson@unl.edu

At the Launching Nebraska-nauts event hosted by 4-H and Extension in Grand Island in Oct., students talk to astronauts living and working in the International Space Station.

Upcoming Events

- Jan 23: COOL Network series begins. Register at nacone.org
- Feb 4-5: Nebraska Regional Ag Impact Summit
- Feb 15: Community applications due for Rural Fellowship program
- Feb 24-25: Women in Agriculture Conference, Kearney
- Apr 27-28: Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference, Columbus

The Rural Fellowship program is eligible for financial support. A total of $100,000 will be given to communities.

HOPE

Lindsay Hastings conducted a study about leadership transfers in rural communities and found an interesting phenomenon—hope helps communities thrive.

Millions given to Nebraska counties able to receive funds RPN Educators ready to help Clicks needed to contact RPN

Featured Program

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference, Columbus

Connecting Entrepreneurial Communities Conference

Money given to Nebraska counties able to receive funds RPN Educators ready to help Clicks needed to contact RPN

$100,000 Communities that host students as part of the 2022 Rural Fellowship program are eligible for financial support. A total of $100,000 will be given to communities.

I think we are all interested in building capacity...to think outside the box on reinventing rural.